

Instructors

Camp director Gordon Stobbe has a long list of recording and performing credits which include live theatre, radio, television and festivals. He has authored 21 instructional books and produced 12 CDs of traditional and original music.

Throughout the year Gordon instructs at fiddle camps across Canada as well as developing mentoring projects in western and northern Canada. When he is home in Nova Scotia he continues to work with students in the Halifax area.

Kelli Trottier is an Ontario based musician who is well known nationally as a fiddler, singer and step dancer. She toured with "Bowfire" for ten years and has two fiddle books and ten recordings of traditional and original music. Kelli has extensive experience teaching privately, in workshops and at music camps.

Jeff is a musician, composer, and recording engineer. Jeff is in constant demand for live performances, recording sessions, and as an instructor for music workshops. He has collaborated with the likes of Natalie MacMaster and Richard Wood and his compositions have been recorded by J.J. Chaisson, Stacey Read, Cynthia MacLeod and others.

Stacey Read hails from Sackville NB and teaches fiddle, step dance and piano to over 50 private students. A graduate of Berklee College of Music in Boston, Stacey is happy to be back in the Maritimes teaching.

All music camp sessions will be held at Atlantica Oak Island.
